Francis Johnston, Reg. Gen. } of the Land office.

The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 17th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds, poll, obtained patents for, two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in pursuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.

Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collins or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

This elegant piece of Ground will be laid off into Lots of about 30 feet front, and 150 feet deep, fronting on Market-street extended, and on Pitt-street, and divided by an alley of about twelve feet. An alley of 20 feet runs from Market-street to Pitt-street, between them and the meeting-house and play-house.

These lots lie very convenient to the centre market, and are inferior to none in the city of Baltimore, for healthfulness, of situation, purity and softness of water—and from their central, high and healthy situation between the town and Point, afford an eligible retreat for family residence, particularly to those who occupy warehouses and stores, either at Fell's-Point, or on the new improvements above and below Jones's Falls.

A plan of the whole is now making, and as soon as completed will be lodged at the office of Yates and Campbell, and a particular day of sale made known as soon as possible.

No expence has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any one ever published in America —— This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admire, the justice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Geniuses of other nations.

LITCHFIELD, July 4.

The Natal day of our Independence was observed in this town, in a noble manner; ushered in by the firing of cannon.

At 9 o'clock, a company of Motrosses raised for the occasion, with two field pieces, Captain Bradley's Cavalry, Capt. Ranney's company of Regular Troops, Capt. Phelps's Lt. Infantry, and the uniformed companies of Captains Goodwin and Kilbourn paraded, with a double complement of music and a Band.

At 12 o'clock a national salute of 16 guns summoned an immense concourse of citizens to the procession, which was formed in the following order, proceeded by the troops, the whole under the command of Capt. Ranney—The Orator, with the President of the day, and Judge Reeve—

The Clergy,
Magistrates,
Military Officers,
Citizens.

Arrived at the Meeting House, the solemnities were opened by church music, and a prayer by the Rev. Mr. Huntington; and Gen. TRACY pronounced an Oration worthy of the Orator and the day.

The procession returned in the same order, and the military and citizens at several tables, sat down to splendid entertainments, and the following toasts were drank, each under a discharge of cannon

The People of the United States—May they discern, that the man, who professes attachment to the constitution, and yet clamours against the measures of government, is an insidious partizan of France.

The Navy and Army of the United States—May the bold and manly policy, which gave their existence, be properly estimated by our Country.

The Governor and the State of Connecticut—the standard of Federalism.

The ancient institutions of New England—May the never be marr'd by the sophisters of impiety.

Gens. Pinckney and Marshall—May their future emulate their former, services; and may their fame, like their virtues be immortal.

No treaty with France—No league with Pandemonium.

The powers combined against France—May they be uniformly successful, until no vestage can be traced of French hypocrisy, French philosophy, or French impiety.

LIBERTY—May it never suffer for want of energy in Government.

The Clergy of the United States—May the talents, learning, patriotism and piety, for which they are so distinguished, continue to adorn their holy profession.

TRUE Republicanism—non resistance and passive obedience to the Will of the Majority.

The American Fair—May their gentle influence guide to noble deeds.

G. SHAW,
Respectfully informs the public, he has received from
ROBERT JOHNSTON,
Apothecary, No. 20, Green street, Soho, London, a fresh and very considerable supply of his highly esteemed Medicine.

AWARE of the depredations made on every public medicine of established repute and extensive sale, R. Johnston, obtained the King of England's Patent for his invention, not "to recommend" but "to distinguish," Whitehead's Essence of Mustard from

SPURIOUS IMITATIONS.

"Five years have now elapsed since Mr. Johnston first made known to the world this very extraordinary medicine; during this short period, its efficacy has been so clearly demonstrated that its sale has far exceeded any former example; comparitively there are few families in England or the United States which have not either heard of or experienced its beneficial effects and with heartfelt satisfaction he had the happiness to declare. Whitehead's Essence of Mustard has cured more persons afflicted with Rheumatisms, Gout, Lumbago, Palsy, Complaints of the Stomach and other Painful Maladies.

Than all the Medicines ever before made public, indeed, the instances, of its efficacy and letters of acknowledgment from "the most respectable characters" are so numerous that a large volume could not possibly contain them, it has also obtained the approbation of the most eminent men of the faculty and is honoured by the use and recommendation of the first families in England, Ireland and America.

A COUNTERFEIT.

R. JOHNSTON has reason to believe a large quantity under the name of "Improved Essence of Mustard," as well as many other has been shipped for America, and considers it his duty to prevent imposition and disappointment.

He therefore requests the afflicted to be particular in the purchase of his bottles, boxes, labels, and bill of directions which are closely copied, and words "by royal authority," artfully substituted for the words "by the king's patent" which may elude common observation.

The Genuine is distinguished by the signature of R. Johnston, in his own hand writing on each label, and as an additional security is further signed on the onside wrapper by his only agent for the United States. G. SHAW, No 129 Chesnut street, Philadelphia, by whom it is sold wholesale and retail, in pills and in a fluid state at one dollar each, box or bottle

FOR CHILBLAINS, SPRAINS AND BRUISES,

It is a certain and effectual remedy, seldom requiring more than three or four applications.

To the candid and liberal of the FACULTY, R. Johnston respectfully submits the following observations. The Fluid Essence of Mustard, is an embrocation worthy their particular attention, it differs in its nature from all others, and is out of the beaten tract of general practice—It is an active stimulant, easily controuled, may be either increased or diminished in its strength by the different methods of use, it is both elegant and convenient and is frequently found in the extemporaneous prescriptions of their bretheren in England.

The above Genuine Medicine, as well as many others of the first celibrity may be had by appointment of G. Shaw, of Mr. C. Bailey, Wilmington, Dr. Barrill, Maiden Lane, New-York, Messrs. Bailey and Walker, Charleston, William Black, Salem, (N. J.) Charles Hunitch, Lancaster, A. C. Jorden, Norfolk, John Roberts, do. David Keen, Sweet Springs, Virginia, R. Lee, Baltimore, I. & J. Mantz, Fredericktown, Maryland, G. W. Mancius, Albany, Dr. Vansolingen, New-York, Messrs. Titford & Son, do. Messrs. Ross & Douglas, Pittsburg, John Webster, Wilmington, James Wilson, do. Richard Winter & Co. Savannah, and in every principal town in the United States.

N. B. The public are desired to enquire for Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, all others being a base and spurious imitation.

GEO. SHAW.
129, Chesnut street, where Venders may be supplied.

"Caution against Counterfeits."

Agents are appointed by G. Shaw in every principal town of the United States, and there is no certainty of purchasing the Genuine Essence of Mustard in any part of America, unless it is signed on the outside wrapper by G. Shaw, No. 129, Chesnut street, Philadelphia, where shopkeepers are supplied and a liberal discount allowed them.

It is not denied, that abuses existed in the old government of France, which required to be corrected, by the cool and temperate hand of reform. Their clergy, with some exceptions, had deviated from the pure model of the apostolic life; the higher ranks of the people were luxurious and dissipated; and the lower orders exposed to the oppressions of arbitrary power; but will not every man of information and candor, allow, that these evils bear no proportion to, or comparison with, those which have grown out of and ever attended the new order of things in France. The same account may be given, of the deviations from pure religion, morals, and government, in other countries of Europe; but with the example of the sufferings of reformed France, before their eyes, can or ought, good moralists, good christians, or benevolent politicians, to wish to see the same means, with the probability of the same effect, employed to cure them?

The first embraces of the French, have something in them so captivating, to those they destine for their prey, that it is almost impossible, for the simple and unsuspicious to resist their witchcraft.

On the 10th of February 1798, the Modern Gauls, took possession of Rome, without resistance; five days afterwards, the tree of liberty was planted, and the Papal government abolished, after which the deceived people began to taste of the fruit of the tree of French liberty. According to Duppa, who was present, consequently, a witness, to the occurrences he relates, and is acknowledged to describe them with impartiality, "The opening of the scene was highly favorable to the most flattering hope, both of liberality and justice. In one, and the same day, all right of conquest was relinquished and Rome declared a free and independent government; to exercise the functions of this government, the honestest, the ablest, and the best men, that could be chosen out of that party were elected. This was consolatory, even to the enemies of the revolution, but it was of short duration; for the men that were made ostensible to the Roman people, as provisionary governors, soon found that their power was scarcely, even the shadow of authority. They were made use of to shew where, and in what consisted the little remaining wealth of the state, and politely compelled to give their assent, that that little might be taken from it; they had the privilege of issuing edicts, which privilege they were compelled to exercise, for oppressing the people, beyond all example, of even the greatest despotism of antient times, and were thus made obnoxious, without deriving the least profit from the plunder that was obtained in their names."

The preceding transactions happened at Rome in 1798. Early in 1799, Bernadotte, general in chief of the French army of observation, addressed the people of Germany, whose country he had entered, at the head of a powerful army, to plunder and revolutionize, in the following words, viz. "Germans, freemen, we are your brethren; we swear it by our arms; we do not come to derange this holy brotherhood; but on the contrary, to confirm our connections, and cement their existence, by the defeat, of their common foe, the house of Austria."

Who, except Jacobins, can affect to believe, that this Bernadotte and his brigands of revolutionizers, would not have acted the same part at Vienna, that had been acted at Rome, if they had not been prevented by the Archduke Charles and his army. And can it be expected, that when this Bernadotte or some other, and his brigands, shall find their way to our shores, they will not endeavor to sooth and cajole the people of the United States with the name of brothers; and swearing on their arms, they have not come to derange this holy brotherhood. May God in his mercy, avert from us, the curse of a holy French brotherhood.

It is an undoubted fact, that nothing saved Vienna and the Germans, freemen, (the meanly insidious and cajoling expressions of Bernadotte notwithstanding) from plunder, assassination, rape and conflagration, by their French brothers, but the intervention of the Archduke and his army; and nothing can save these United States from the same cursed effects of a holy French brotherhood, but the intervention of a Washington and a well appointed army. The Jacobins know this well; hence their opposition to the army; hence the Editor of the Aurora, on the 29th June ult. copied from a Baltimore paper, established to propagate French principles, the following paragraph. "I (the Baltimore printer) discharged the duty incumbent on my situation, by decrying an establishment (the American army, raised expressly to prevent or meet French hostilities) more to be dreaded, by those who are worthy of their liberties, than the exertions of that frightful hobgoblin, that terrific raw head, and bloody bones, the five headed monster.

We regret to state, that that brave officer Captain Silas Talbot, has resigned his commission in the Navy.

A man who called himself Count Alexander Tilly, and who lived some time in Philadelphia, a Chevalier d'Industrie, has taken his departure from New-York in the ship Factor, for London.

The report by the citizen passenger at New-York, of Moreau's victory, at Piccighitone, merits no attention; being an old lie.

We have heretofore had occasion to assert that a large majority of the American people are convinced that a war with France is necessary to this country, and anxiously wish for that event. A decisive confirmation of this opinion, has occurred, in the eclat with which Captain Truxton has been toasted on a late occasion, from one end of the Continent to the other.

For CHARITAS

In yesterday's paper, Charitas says that I have declared the Tax to be insupportable, and what ought not to be submitted to—To refute which, I recite every word I have written that relates to its being so, see my No. 1 to the Managers of the Alms-House and house of employ, as follows—

"By your account No. 3, the paupers in the house are six hundred and five, of whom one hundred and fifty three are children—I will throw them all out of the question, because they do not work—The result is, there remains two hundred and twenty six men, and two hundred and twenty seven women, the profit of whose labor together in the whole year is but four shillings each.

I acknowledge that very large allowance ought to be made for the situation of many of your paupers, but still I cannot resolve it to my own satisfaction, that four hundred and fifty three grown people, who are all provided at the public expence with board, cloathing, fuel and every necessary article of life, should not earn four shillings each a year, when an individual labourer can earn twice as much in one day.

If, however, you can satisfy your fellow-citizens on this subject, it will be proper to do it; for many of them begin to grow uneasy about the poor tax, and consider it as an almost insupportable burthen. They felt it so last year, and they are likely to feel it so this year, in which I am told sixty two thousand dollars are assessed for the poor tax alone.

Enormous as this, is I believe they will pay it willingly, if they are but convinced that good œconomy is observed in the expenditure of their money, and that a reasonable share of labor is exacted from all those who can work, in due proportion to their ability and strength—but if you apply their taxes to improper uses, and turn the Alms-House and House of Employ, which was designed for the convenient and comfortable accommodation of the infirm and superannuated poor of the city and districts, as well as to encourage industry in those who are willing to do work, if they could get it, into a nursery for idle itinerants, you may expect, notwithstanding the regard we entertain for your characters, that we shall complain with justice, and say the institution instead of being a public benefit, is become a disgrace to the city."

His other Observations on my performance, are so false and betray so much ignorance of the business he writes about, that I do not think him worthy of an Answer.

The Author of No. 1, &c. to the Managers of the Alms House and House of Employ.

MR. FENNO,

IN order further to prove the assertions lately advanced, it may be proper to make a further comparison between the Pennsylvania Hospital, and the Alms-House.

In the year 1782, the Managers of the Pennsylvania Hospital charged 77 cents per week, for the maintenance of maniacs, &c. sent to them, by the Managers of the Alms House; and in 1798 and 1799, they charged three dollars per week—thus we find, or at least, the inference is evident, that the expences attending the management of that institution, bears the same proportion in former times, to the present, as one to four—"Friend Scribe"! what say you now in favor of "Old Times?"

It is a very curious circumstance indeed, that this snarling scribbler should make observations on the manufactures of the Alms House, and attempt to shew that the profits on all the work done there last year, amounted to £87 only, when he well knows a considerable part of the cloathing of near 2000 persons, admitted in the course of the year, is made in that house. What can be the motives of this discontented mortal? Will he not even allow comfortable cloathing to protect his fellow creatures (whose unfortunate situation has compelled them to seek a dwelling in this happy asylum) from the inclemencies of the weather? Is his heart too callous to attend to the distresses of widows and orphans deprived of the means of support in the loss of a husband or father? I cannot believe it—Why then shew this inveteracy against an institution founded on principles, the most charitable and praise worthy, and conducted in my opinion, with as much propriety as it is possible for men in their situation to do. I was about remarking, that in an account lately rendered from one public institution to another, the article of cloathing, exclusive of the board of patients, amounted to a large sum. This circumstance must readily recur to his memory, as it is probable he has a familiar acquaintance with one of the institutions. Thus a charge is made of 3 dollars per week for patients, besides the cloathing made use of, and what is destroyed by the maniacs—The account for cloathing and bedding destroyed, amounted to 63 dollars for last year. In fact, it has become highly necessary, that some revisions and alterations of the present poor laws should be made; and I think it demands the early attention of our Legislature—It will not do for the public to pay the sum asked by the Managers of the Pennsylvania Hospital for maintenance of Paupers sent there from the Alms House, at the rate of three dollars per week, besides cloathing, &c. (particularly when they are publicly accused of extravagance and mismanagement) this charge is enormous, and more than is at particular times demanded of others; for, as they receive thirty paupers without pay, when this class in the house is short of that number, in my opinion they ought rather to make a distinction in favor of the Alms House, but the reverse is the case; and they have actually refused maniacs (without pay) at a time when there has been room for 8 or 10. This should be one inducement, in my opinion, why an alteration in the poor laws ought to take place, and that the Alms-House might be converted into an hospital also; in order that the hand of benevolence and philanthropy, by which the citizens of Philadelphia have long been peculiarly distinguished, might be extended to further objects of charity, and thereby comprise the relief, as far as possible, of unhappy, unattended objects deprived of reason. There are at this time 3 or 4 persons in the Alms-House desperately insane, and although the accommodations are by no means convenient, or calculated for them, they are continued for the reasons above stated. I do not mean by this comparison to undervalue the merits of the Pennsylvania Hospital; on the contrary, I value it much, and know the advantages arising from it are many; at the same time, I am of opinion, the plan is too contracted, and that old established principles and prejudices, are extremely difficult to be removed. Another great inducement for the legislature to pay early attention to this important work is, in order to make an alteration in the appointment of managers, who ought to be a permanent body, chosen during good behaviour, and to receive a moderate compensation for their services, by which means their time might be constantly employed in the management of the House; the business would doubtless be conducted with more success than by managers whose time expires in one year, and whose business in some degree, necessarily prevents their paying that minutia of attention, which its importance requires.—Another alteration strikes me as very important, that is, the managers to be a separate body, with distinct powers from the out door overseers of the poor; at present, one interferes too much with the other.

Thus much I have advanced, Mr. Editor, in vindication of the Managers of the Alms House, and hope the public is now satisfied that the statements published against them are not deserving of further notice; as I hope not to trespass again on the time and attention of your readers.

"How long halt ye between two opinions?"

WHEN the terms of a text are intelligible, its import obvious to ordinary apprehension, or its positions confessedly indisputable, the faithful Preacher will abstain from tedious comments and labored explanations. No attachment to a system will ever lead me to attempt a perversion of scriptural truth; and there is no intricacy in the question before us, which requires me to remark upon the meaning of the text, or to exhibit its connexion with the context. Suffice it briefly to premise, that "there are a kind of men," of whom, in the ordinary transactions of life, this is emphatically, a "question to be asked,"—"how long halt ye between two opinions."

Indecision of character may result from a deficiency of judgment, or from want of independence. When it proceeds from the first cause, it is pitiable; when from the last it merits censure, and is truly contemptible. To men of the first description, commiseration may well be imparted; but to bestow exhortation or reproof upon such, would be to sow goodly seed upon a rock. These, therefore, will be dismissed from our attention; and our remarks will be confined to those, who, from want of judgment, "halt between two opinions."

A foolish and inexcuseable timidity is frequently a source of irresolution and indecision. There are men, whose talents enable them to judge with correctness, and who yet, through the influence of this cause, dare not avow their opinions. They are intimidated by the prospect of a paltry danger, and sacrifice both reason and conscience, in obedience to the delusive suggestions of a caution, which is degrading to the dignity of man, and a timid apprehension of consequences, infamous in the estimation of the world. The timid may ever have this danger in prospect; for such is our depravity, that rectitude is sometimes laughed at; virtuous deeds may, by possibility, blast popularity; and he who builds his life upon the eternal base of morality and truth, cannot thence infer, that the support and affection of his worldly friends will remain unchangeably the same. While these truths shall endure, bring men to decide, whether they will bear the sneer of malice, and the scorn of vice, or turn aside to avoid them from the known path of duty; whether they will sacrifice an ignoble popularity, or secure it by an occasional deviation from the rules of virtue, and by the omission of ingenuous deeds; whether they will resolutely adhere to the maxims of strict integrity; or swerve therefrom to advance the interest and secure the friendship of a worldling, and there will be found those, who will shrink from the trial, and, at least, "halt between two opinions."

Influenced by the considerations I have suggested, it is of no importance to men of this description, that reason points out the path, and that conscience commands that it be implicitly pursued. For them the reward of virtue in this life is too precarious, and the promised enjoyment of the next too distant to induce them to set the artifice and malignity of vice at defiance. And as long as dangers exist to deter them, their indecision will remain, even if the path of duty be illuminated by the splendor of celestial truth.

This species of indecision of character is wicked and contemptible, because he to whom it is attached, errs against the "clearest light," and sacrifices both interest and duty, at the glimmering prospect of distant danger. It is absurd and unprofitable, as even the end, for which the sacrifice of certain good is made, is not attained; for even vice itself demands, that its votaries evince decision in its favor. It is moreover, pernicious in its consequences; for bitterness is the portion of him who has it; it subjects him to the torture of conscious guilt and consigns him to a wordly infamy, far more terrible, than all the evils that can assail the "steady port" of firm, decided and inflexible integrity.

There are those, who are usually found to "halt between two opinions," from motives of policy, and from principles of dastardly and contemptible prudence. These temporizing spirits may be discerned in the elevated and in the lowly walks of life. The "grave, wrinkled Senator," the hallowed minister of justice, and the mean and humble courtier, are victims to its poisonous influence. The inhabitant of "gorgeous palaces," thus condescends, and the wretched tenant of a cottage thus aspires, to catch the favour of the crowd and gain the applauses of the multitude.

But fame thus obtained is insubstantial as a shadow, and glory thus acqired will pass away like the transient existence of a summer insect. For, it will ever be found written in the creed of honesty, that the man who once yields to politic considerations upon the great question of duty, be his the "post of honor" or a "private station," cannot hereafter be depended on, decidedly "true" to his conscience and his God.

There are times and there will be occasions when every good man will cry, in the language of the Prophet, "multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision!" But unfortunately, these are also the times of peril, when virtue calls loudest for the decision of its friends, that the timid and temporizing characters I have described are ever found to "halt between two opinions." At these times and on such occasions, he only is found worthy, who "sets his face like a flint" in the path of duty, and he only merits approbation, who can place "honor in one eye and death in the other, and look on both indifferently."

From a London Paper.

The real embalmed HEAD of the powerful and renowned usurped OLIVER CROMWELL, styled protector of the Commonwealth of England, Scotland and Ireland; with the original dyes for the medals struck in honor of his victory at Dunbar, &c. &c. are now exhibiting at No. 5, in Mead-court, Old Bond-street, (where the Rattle Snake was shewn last year) A genuine narrative relating to the acquisition, concealment, and preservation of these articles to be had at the place of exhibition.

The vengeance of the Irish rebels falling chiefly upon the horned cattle, has naturally alarmed men in the upper ranks of life. So many of his Majesty's subjects in both kingdoms come under this description, that there is no saying where the mischief may end.

BURMUDA, June 15.

By a vessel from Jamaica, we learn that the Queen of 98 guns, Admiral Parker, lately fell in with three Spanish 74 gun ships of which she engaged for a considerable time and beat off with great slaughter. The Queen lost near 300 men. By this vessel we also learn that Gene al Touissaint, of St. Domingo, died a short time since; and the British Government has declared that island independant.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the short and pleasant road of Bustleton, Newtown, Scotch-Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in winter and summer, has been clearly ascertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is several miles shorter than the old road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country, and a considerable proportion of shade, must always render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure starts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth street. It goes through Frankford to Bustleton, where it stops to Breakfast; from Bustletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it stops at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it starts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For seats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee house, to A. Mathieu, corner of Nassau and John streets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich street, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad street.

Fare for passengers, Five Dollars.
Way passengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a passenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of stages, they think must meet with general approbation, They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the stage-book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the route, the greatest care has bren taken to fix on such places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates The stages are well equipped furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent sober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care also to see that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence is practised upon them; in short, they have spared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best line of stages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every passenger has found the road to surpass very far all that has been said of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviour of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns, spoken of with the highest satisfaction.
